Course Catalog

Real Life Personal Finance (RLPF) Independent Study Edition for Non-Texas Public Schools

Description

RLPF is a blended, online, one-semester, financial literacy course. It is designed to increase the number of students who graduate from high school (credit recovery) and enter postsecondary education. Many states provide an extra allotment to districts to encourage high school graduation or college readiness.

The course integrates financial, career, postsecondary education planning and reality-based math, with critical thinking, problem solving, teamwork, and project development. For quantity and multi-year licenses, contact Kenneth Decker.
